SIGNATURE DRINKS

THE AFFABLE ARNOLD 9

Rumor has it that when Arnold Palmer had a particularly good round, his signature drink included vodka

THE ANGRY ARNOLD 10

By the same token, a tough round was finished with the tea/lemonade mixture and a shot of bourbon.

THE BLUE MONSTER 10

Golf ball ice cubes dance in a concoction of blue curacao with raspberry and citron vodkas, inspired by Doral, the iconic Florida course.

THE CLUBHOUSE OLD FASHIONED 10

This Clubhouse classic calls for your call on the bourbon but our call on the bitters...Fee Brothers makes bitters better.

THE MEDINA MARGARITA 11

The Chicagoland course has one of the most spectacular clubhouses in America, and one heck of a margarita! Top-shelf blue agave tequila and Grand Marnier tees up this refresher.

THE SPIKED IKE 9

Dwight D. Eisenhower liked his rounds with a Transfusion, a mix of vodka, grape juice, and lime juice.

You will like Ike, too.

THE FOOL'S MULE 12

What do you get when you mix Moscow and Kentucky? This. Vodka, bourbon, ginger beer, and some lime.

THE CHEETAH 11

Root beer, bourbon liqueur, and Baileys. Accutech's founder invented this ultra-sweet libation (as far as we know). It's so smooth and goes down so fast that you'll be convinced you can hit a 300-yard drive at Ray's Bay right away

BREAKFAST BALL BLOODY 12

Salted rim, a piece of candied bacon, and a specialty skewer.
